

Anthony Cuzo

3/14/23

Professor Rodwell

Technical Description Outline

4.1- TITLE PAGE

4.2- Contents:

- game cover- 2 pieces (front and back)
- Top cover/card holder
- Card holder/door
- On button
- Clear screen button
- Game Pencil
- Inside Screen
- Inside springs for inner screen
- Battery cartridge
- Battery holder within cartridge
- Speaker
- LED lights around inner screen
- Timer for lights
- Wiring running from battery cartridge to power panel/motherboard
- 180 Cards
- Engraved "ZYNGA" logo

- Screws (22 SCREWS TOTAL- 11 outer/11 inner)
- “Draw Something” sticker

4.3- INTRODUCTION:

- the Draw Something party board game was created by ZYNGA and published by Hasbro after it's initial release date in February 1, 2012, and stable release July 31, 2015.

4.4- BODY:

- TOP: top of game cover; card holder
- MIDDLE (outside)- front and back cover; power button; clear screen push button; 11 screws that hold cover, 4 screws that hold battery cartridge; 180 playing cards; card holder cover; ”Draw Something” sticker
 - (inside)- 11 screws holding battery, speaker, and light motherboards, wiring from battery to speaker and lights, springs for the inner clearing board; timer for lights and speaker, battery cartridge/battery plastic separate
- BOTTOM- stylus, ZYNGA logo, speaker motherboard cartridge

4.4.1- when explain how each part correlates with each part, use picture to demonstrate accurate use of parts/subparts (still have to get outline 100% done before diving into how they function with each other)